

Join the County of San Luis Obispo Medical Reserve Corps

1. Register to Volunteer on California Disaster Healthcare Volunteers

- Complete a profile on the California Disaster Healthcare Volunteers (DHV) site:
www.healthcarevolunteers.ca.gov
- The landing page for DHV says “California Health Corps Registration” but this is the correct site to register on.
- Click the “Register Now” Tab → “Add Organization” → Drop down “Medical Reserve Corps Organizations” → Select “San Luis Obispo County Medical Reserve Corps” as your Unit Affiliation

Please DO NOT choose “COVID-19 Response” - this is for statewide deployment, not our local unit

2. Complete DHV Profile

- Make sure your profile is 100% complete by clicking “My Profile” and ensuring all sections are complete.
- You will need to provide us your Medical Licenses if applicable and your employer if currently employed.

3. Receive NEOGOV LINK for Onboarding

- Licensed Medical Professionals will be first to receive a NOGOV Link from our MRC Coordination Team
- Please keep an eye on your email inbox and spam folder for an activation link from: donotreply@neogov.com
- You must access your link within 24 hours or it will expire.
- If your link does expire please email HR_Alternate_Care_Site@co.slo.ca.us for an updated link.

4. Welcome to the San Luis Obispo Medical Reserve Corps!

- Access the MRC Manual online at: www.slocounty.ca.gov/MRC
- Please stay tuned for our newsletters as these will provide you with training courses and resources.
- If you have any change in status or availability to volunteer, please let our team know.

Due to increased interest during COVID-19, please know this is not the standard process for becoming an MRC Volunteer. The SLOMRC supports our local community emergency medical response system, augments staff shortages, and assists with health promotion and education as needed throughout the year.

We appreciate you all and look forward to having you as a vital part of our team!
